

CV Eighth Grade Basketball The Sport that NEVER Dies

By: Trevor Farrow

There are some star-studded basketball players at Canyon View Middle School. Cody Spencer, Paul Jarvis, Lainey Fullmer, Keely Dettling, Kru Huxford, and Hutch Miller are all great players. The boys' eighth grade team record was 7-3 during the season and playoffs. The team beat Snow Canyon for the first time during the season, which was a huge improvement all around. They have also beat many other great teams along the way.

The team is made up of Hayden Springer, Madsen Rigby, Paul Jarvis, Jackson Jorgenson, Trevor Farrow, Treyson Langford, Levi Saylor, Seth Christensen, Karsten Jensen, and Andrew Martineez.

The 8th grade girls' team includes: Sierra Pederson, Izzy Garrett, McKinlee Roundy, Maddy Stephenson, Lainee Fullmer, Audrey Jenen, Ellen Ohms, and Shiyeka Begay.

All agree that this season has prepared them for high school basketball.

“Basketball..It’s a Kind of Magic”

By: Trevor Farrow and Halle Potter

The CVMS 7TH grade basketball team went 1-8 this year. Overall, the team has made major improvements to their basketball program. On opening day of the border league season, they won their first game. They are a very talented young group and are always striving to become better.

The 7th grade team is made of Kru Huxford, Hutch Miller, Hayden Zobell, Kolby White, Kody Callison, Brenden Greenhalgh, Brayden Floyd, Spencer Cheney, Tyler Maine, Waylin Cooley, Karson Creamer, Gavin Creamer, Cole Farrow, Zach Hirshey, Landon Yardley, and Treven Benson.

The group feels good about their progress as a team this year. “At first I was struggling with my shot. But at the end of the season, I was making a lot more,” said Kolby White. The 7th grade team is very athletic and plan on working hard during the offseason.

CV Team Feels the Power of Basketball

By: Trevor Farrow and Hallie Potter

The seventh grade girls from Canyon View are nearly undefeated on the court this year. The only game they lost went into overtime. According to Coach Jamie Dettling, “The seventh grade basketball team is dedicated and good team players.”

The team is made up of 7th grade girls from Canyon View. They include: Addy Newman, Keely Dettling, Hallie Potter, Tatum Millett, Morgan Haycock, Kelsey Peterson, Rylie Horton, Allison Dierdon, Bella Monroe, Aspen Bergener, and Baylee Adair.

Teamwork is key to their success. Millet says, “The team is much better when we work together.” She also said running the plays correctly is important to winning games. “When Addy Newman, the team’s point guard, brings the ball down the floor, we know we will run the offense correctly.”

Bring Out the Future Talons

By: Trevor Farrow

Canyon View Middle School has some very “talon”ted dancers. The new team includes: Sidney Mendenhall, Harley Henslington, Shelby Haycock, Savannah Durbin, Brooklynn Ludlow, Lily Dunn, Cheyanne Watson, Whitney Bulloch, Baylee Davis, Izzy Garrett, Cashly Curtis, Macie Winters, Cami Eastman, Shelby Brindley, and Aleesha Adams.

The competition was tough. “It was challenging mostly because I was terrified,” said Whitney Bulloch who will be filling one of those spots next year.

The new team, along with the many that tried out, worked hard to fill the final spots. Most have been dancing for years. The Talons will perform next year at basketball and football games and compete for their own trophy at the state competition in February.

